

Pope Gregory the Great Pastoral Rule

Writings of Pope St. Gregory the Great

Pope Leo XIII

ESSENTIAL FOR MODERN CHRISTIAN SOCIAL RENEWAL

Pope Leo XIII is the modern patriarch of Christian social thought. From the perspective of God's Law, he took a critical look at both capitalism and communism, which he argued are both in need of redemption. Having recourse to both natural and divine law, he was able to clarify the proper understanding of private property, the relationship of labor and capital, the demands of justice and charity, of democracy and the source of power and authority, of authentic freedom, and of the proper relationship between Church and State, the spiritual and temporal realms in a democratic society.

SAMPLE ONE OF OUR "GREATEST BOOKS" FOR FREE

Rev. Edward Cahill S.J.

The Framework of a Christian State is a rare find. Rev. Cahill has an encompassing understanding of Catholic social thought, of its historic contingencies, its development, dissolution, principles and possibilities for application.

His presentation is well documented and supported by valuable historical data that you have probably never heard before, that is according to moral norms implemented under the impulse of both natural law and Divine Law in Catholic countries before the advent of modernity.

SAMPLE ONE OF OUR “GREATEST BOOKS” FOR FREE

Saint Augustine: The City of God

IN TWO VOLUMES

One of the all time greatest Christian political treatises dealing with church and state relations, which Augustine referred to respectively as the “City of God” and the “City of Man”. Learn why the two are locked in perpetual strife and how the latter seeks to disguise the “enmity” by blaming the church for the world’s ills and misfortunes.

Saint Joan of Arc

Explore church politics at its worse: The condemnation of a Saint as a “schismatic”, “heretic” and “apostate”.

Put on trial by the show bishop of Beauvais, denied the Eucharist, pilloried by attorneys, professors, princes and the most learned and powerful men of the realm, young Jeanne d Arc stood her own on her own. Explore the letters, profuse legal documents, heinous accusations and between the lines adsorb the hatred and cloaked violence that in the end conspired to find the nineteen year old guilty followed by her burning at the stake, 30, May 1431.

Twenty Five years later her case was finally reviewed by Pope Calixtus and Joan was declared a martyr.

SAMPLE ONE OF OUR “GREATEST BOOKS” FOR FREE

Saint Louis Marie de Montfort's Love of Eternal Wisdom

“The Love of Eternal Wisdom”: An essential and masterful treatise on the love of the Word for humanity, the mystery of the Incarnation, and the relationship between growth in wisdom and love of God leading the divinization of humanity.

Saint Pope John Paul II

ESPECIALLY FOR MARIAN APOSTELS OF THE ENDTIMES

The Pope who consecrated the world to the Immaculate Heart of Mary, the most significant papal event in the modern world. John Paul's social teachings are an integral part of his consecration. They are necessary reading for social transformation of the political, economic and social arenas, which he intended as blue prints for the "architects of a new humanity".

SAMPLE ONE OF OUR "GREATEST BOOKS" FOR FREE

Saint Robert Bellarmine: Treatise on Civil Government

An essential book for social and political renewal that is under way during the "Era of Peace". In these pages you will learn the true Catholic teaching on monarchy and democracy and the Catholic argument against Divine Rights of Kings and absolutism for which the Church is often wrongly accused of aiding and abetting.

SAMPLE ONE OF OUR EXQUISITE ELECTRONIC BOOKS

Saint Teresa of Avila: The Interior Castle

Saint Teresa, a Carmelite mystic and Doctor of the Church, understood the essential dignity of the human soul and the need for a rich Interior Life in union with Christ, the Bridegroom of the soul.

Learn from her the mystical steps of progress leading to spiritual perfection necessary to enter the Kingdom of Heaven as a member of the Body of Christ.

Teresa is unsurpassed in spiritual sagacity and union with the Holy Trinity by way of Divine Love for God and neighbor. Carmelite spirituality is for beginners and for those who have already mastered themselves and are leading a “good life” but want to advance further by means of spiritual wisdom and divine love to ultimate union with God. Teresa covers every step along “The Way”.”
